VOL 5 NO 24

NORTH WILMINGTON, MASS. JUNE 12, 1958

PRICE 10 CENTS

$66.00 TAX RATE

$66 TAX RATE ANNOUNCED BY ASSESSORS

A $66 tax rate for the Town of Wilmington, for the year 1958, was announced yesterday by the Board of Assessors.

This rate is considerably less than the $69 lately predicted, and anticipated after the annual Town meeting in March, and compares favorably with the rates announced for 1958 with contiguous towns.
Billerica has announced a rate of $83, Tewksbury $73, North Reading $70 and Concord $83.40. The rates for Chelmsford and Burlington have not yet been announced. The 1957 rate for Chelmsford was $73 and for Burlington $64.

The Wilmington Finance Committee, using all available information for the Town Meeting had indicated a $67 tax rate based on their recommended expenditures. This
of approximately $113,000 for school purposes.

Unexpected appropriations, however, of $38,000 for a 75 foot aerial ladder truck and $5,000 for the police station added $43,000 to the Finance Committee's recommended expenditures and brought their estimates up to $69, based on normal anticipated growth as reflected in the total valuations.

The estimated valuations, however were exceeded by about $500,000, almost all of which is attributed to added valuations realized from Wilmington's expanded industrial programs.

INJUNCTIONS ISSUED ON GRAVEL PITS

INJUNCTIONS ISSUED AGAINST TWO GRAVEL OPERATIONS

Operations at two gravel pits in Wilmington have been stopped, at least temporarily, by injunctions issued by the Middlesex Superior Court, sitting at East Cambridge.

Work at the former Van Steenburg Gravel Pit, off Salem St. and adjacent to the North Reading line was stopped at the end of work on June 2nd, after an injunction had been issued on that day.

Building Inspector Minot J.
Anderson, who is also the Zoning Law officer of Wilmington signed the complaint, which alleged that the present owner of the pit, Stephen Hathaway, was removing gravel without a license.

According to Anderson Hathaway has removed about 15,000 who unfortunately was unable to be present because of ill-of the Town of Wilmington for its cooperation with the State

In a speech which was very well received, His Excellency reviewed some of his legislative program, and told of some of the plans for future days.

BUILDING INSPECTOR SAYS H.S. ADDITION CONSTRUCTION NOT ACCORDING TO SPECS Threatens to Notify State

The reinforcing rods in the foundation of the High School Addition, now being built, have not been placed according to the specifications for the building, according to Building Inspector Minot J. Anderson.

In letters to Structural Engineer Thomas J. Murphy of Boston, and the School Building Committee, Anderson has stated that a number of the rods which are used to reinforce and strengthen the building's foundation were wrongly placed and still others were insuf-smaller size than those order-

REPUBLICANS PLANNING TO ENDORSE ONE CANDIDATE FOR DONOHUE'S SEAT

The Reading Chronicle, last week reported a strong movement to endorse Arthur J. West II, of Woburn, as a candidate for the seat in the House of Representatives presently held by Rep. Thomas Donohue of Wo-burn.

According to the Chronicle, Selectman James E. Calvin of Reading, who was defeated by Donohue by a narrow margin last year, has stated that he will not be a candidate this year, and that he is withdrawing in the interests of harmony in the Republican ranks.

Calvin, in the Chronicle account emphasized that his re-irement from state politics was temporary and that he plans to seek the Representative's seat in the near future. He was reported as subscribing wholeheartedly to the theory that representation of Woburn, by Republicans is very desireable, and must be recognized by Reading Republicans.

Calvin also pointed out that the Towns of Wilmington and North Reading may in the near future demand representation in the 18th Middlesex District and that some form of rotation must be arranged.

West's Candidacy

Although it has not been formally announced, Mr. West of Woburn is understood to be a candidate. He has sent letters to the members of the Wilmington Town Republican Committee indicating that he would seek the office.

The Woburn Republican is a professor at Suffolk University and holds the distinction of being the only Republican elected to public office in Woburn at the present time.

He is a member of Woburn's School Committee, and was the chairman of that committee in 1957. He is 31 years of age.

NICHOLS STREET WATER MAIN VOTED

By an extremely close vote, and after an hour and a half of debate the Town of Wilmington, in Town Meeting assembled Monday evening voted to install water mains on Nichols Street, under the Betterment Act.

A standing vote, at the end of the debate gave a count of 104 persons in favor of installing the main, and 99 opposed.

The issue, as defined by Selectman Francis Hagerty was one of supplying water to the people of Fairmeadow Road, and of protecting the integrity of the Betterment Act.

Hagerty told the Town Meeting that the Town Counsel had advised, after questioning, that the Board of Selectmen could not declare an emergency in this case, and that the only way water could be installed was by the Betterment Act, because it had been accepted by the Town.

Hagerty also told the Town Meeting that the State Department of Health would just probably turn the problem over to the Local Board of Health, if water were to be shut off the Fairmeadow Road-Jere Road main by the Town of Tewksbury.

The Local Board of Health, Hagerty stated, could only advise the people to dig wells, if the water were shut off, and if adequate water was not to be had they would have to condemn the houses.

THE MEANING OF THE VOTE

Many people still do not realize the extent of the danger to the tax payers of Wilmington, as it was implied in the Monday night meeting.

Wilmington has voted, after due consideration, to install water mains, streets and sidewalks, and probably will, in the future vote to install sewers by the Betterment Act.

The Betterment Act is perhaps the fairest way there is to handle such problems. It is designed, by and large, so that the people who gain the most benefit pay the biggest costs, and the people who gain no benefits do not have to pay.

It is something that should have been done right from the beginning, in respect to the Water Department. Of course in those days it was impossible to see this far into the future, and we are not trying to cast stones at those who have gone before, but had the Betterment Act being in effect from the beginning Wilmington would have been spared many many headaches.

The implied danger of this Town Meeting, just past, was the threat to do away with the Betterment system.

In water alone, neglecting streets, we have installed over $70,000 in mains in the past two years. In future years, for the foreseeable future, we may be expected to install about $30,000 a year.

We would have to, in all fairness, rescind the Betterment Act as it was applied in the past two years, if we were to talk about rescinding it for any one street. Legally perhaps we may not have had to, but morally we would have.

That would mean a jump of $4 or $5 in taxes next year, and an average increase of $2 for the following years, into the foreseeable future.

And that would just be the effect of the Water Extension program. Add to that the cost of the street program and the taxbills could very well be around $6 higher every year.

That would be serious, we think every one will agree. That, in essence was what the town was being asked to face Monday evening, and the town should be congratulated on the outcome of the event, close as it was.

OUR MODERATOR

It would seem that this column just can't refrain from commenting on the actions of the Moderator, in Town Meetings, whoever the gentleman may be that is filling the chair.

Last March we had a few caustic comments to

SUSIE'S

SONNETS

THE GREAT PERSUADER

To fill a page, for us a cinch is:

We make our headlines two full inches.

Like salt and pepper we can scatter

The smaller ones for idle chatter.

Our formula: build up a crisis

On town events, I'll tell you why, Sis,

Although, in passing, it enrages,

It helps to fill up wide-spread pages.

'Our town', 'our bridge', the pitch is subtle.

If this don't peddle papers, what'll?

make about Mr. Cutter. We felt that they were well taken, too.

Now we have nothing but praise. Mr. Cutter handled an explosive situation with urbanity and finesse. He avoided a number of pitfalls, in which a less wary person may have fallen.

He was exactly what the word implies - a Moderator, a man who takes no sides but conducts the meeting fairly and with dispatch.

FRANK HAGERTY

Our hat is off to Frank Hagerty, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen for a job well done at the Town Meeting Monday evening.

We do not, of course, always agree with Mr. Hagerty. Should we wish to we could pick a flaw or two in his actions of almost any week, but that is one of the things to be expected of a man who has to take a public stand on almost every question.

But Mr. Hagerty, in his handling of an explosive situation did very well indeed. We believe he gained the respect of those he opposed in addition to those who were with him.

The Congregational Church has lost an object of great historical value, and this article is being published in the hope that someone in Wilmington may be able to offer a clue to its whereabouts.

At the time of the French and Indian wars, the minister of the church was the Rev Isaac Morrill, whose pastorate extended over a period of fifty-two years. His tomb is the red brick structure in the present cemetery, not far from the Town Hall on Middlesex Ave. Morrill went to the wars, and on his return to Wilmington he is said to have brought his pay home in the form of silver 'cartwheels', which he then converted into a Communion set and which he presented as a gift to the church. Today all trace of this silver service has been lost.

When the church observed its 200th anniversary in 1933, Mrs. Arthur Simmons, the wife of the minister of that period, published an extended history of the church, which was one of the most important and lasting features of the celebration. Speaking of the Communion set Mrs. Simmons wrote, 'Until a day or two ago I had thought that it was lost, but have been informed that it is either in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, or the Massachusetts Historical Society rooms, and rejoiced to learn that so great a treasure, not only of our church, but of the Puritan heritage of New England, is in safekeeping.'

The present minister of the church, Rev Stanley Cummings, has taken steps to ascertain whether the set is still in either one of these institutions, and it is now certain that such is not the case. It has been quite common in the past for valuable objects of this kind to be deposited in private homes, where it was believed that they would be safe but with the passage of time the knowledge of their existence has been forgotten. It is with the bare hope that somebody may be able to offer a suggestion that this appeal to the public is being made.

The matter of the lost Communion set has renewed pertinence at this time because the Congregational Church is this year observing its 225th anniversary, and the discovery of an object of such great historical value would add immeasurably to the occasion.

TOWN NOTES

There is Plenty of Fish
The brooks and rivers are full of fish. The Shawshen and Ipswich have both been giving consistently good catches during the week, and even Lubber's Brook is worth while just now.

In the past week there have been reported to this paper at least a dozen catches of 13 and 14 inch rainbows, out of Lubber's Brook, all downstream from Middlesex Avenue, right to Jenk's Bridge.

Bobby Westcott was the only one to get more than one - and he made it three in one evening, using grey flies which he makes himself.

Young Freddy Brousseau was the only one to catch the rain bows on a worm.

Fred Brousseau

a worm catcher, he

Freddy got his in that pool for Junior Sportsmen, the one just below Middlesex Ave.

Further up on Lubber's Brook the brookies are jumping for flies, but they are shy and delicate creatures, scared to death of a fishing rod - just too many youngsters have been flailing that brook it seems.

Incidentally, the pickerel fishing ought to be picking up. So far it has been very slow, but the weeds are agrowing, and it might pay your while to try a pork rind, dragging it in shallow water near the shore, either of Silver Lake or Mill Pond.

NORMAN PERRY IN HOSPITAL
Norman Perry, Church Street, is a patient in Winchester Hospital, where he underwent surgery over the past weekend.

Bachelor of Science and Masters degree in education. At the present time, Arthur is, Assistant Professor of Biology at Suffolk University, head of the Science Department at Emerson College, and instructor at Massachusetts College of Optometry.

Mr. West has been active in the civic, charitable, and municipal functions of Woburn. He has served as chairman of the Woburn School Committee in 1957, civic leader in Ward 7, member of the Woburn Chamber of Commerce, P. T. A., Y.
M. C. A., D. A. V., High Schools Scholarship Fund, Republican City Committee and helped to organize the Wo-burn Young Republicans. He served as chairman of the 1957 Red Feather Drive in Woburn.

In making the formal announcement of his candidacy, Arthur West stated, "While serving the community on a local level, I have become keenly aware of the problems facing our state and the necessity for a more vigorous, progressive, and objective program of representation in the State House."

Gravel Pits

yards of gravel and sand from the former Van Steensburg pit, the gravel coming from that portion of the pit closest to Salem Street, and not very far from the North Reading line.

Hathaway, who has been in the gravel business for many years operating pits in other towns, had asked the Board of Selectmen two weeks ago for a license for this pit. At that time Hathaway stated that he wanted to 'clean up the pit' because he had two prospective buyers for the land, which is quite extensive in area.

Anderson has stated that the work done prior to June 2nd was not just a 'clean-up' but constituted major gravel removing operations. He has also stated that Hathaway is removing sand and gravel from pit, in North Reading, to a point below the water line, ten or fifteen feet lower than the grade that Wilmington is all owing for the pit.

Anderson had a photographer take pictures of the operation last Thursday evening, for possible use in court. One of his pictures shows a power shovel, in North Reading, in a trench, with standing water on the level where the shovel is working.

Preliminary Hearing
A preliminary hearing was held in the East Cambridge Court House last Friday, to determine whether or not the injunction should be upheld.

Both Hathaway and Anderson were represented by legal counsel, before Justice Fair-brother, Hathaway's attorney being a Mr. Stewart, and Anderson's Mr. Charles Higginson of the firm of Hemenway & Barnes.

No announcement was made at the end of a one and one half hour conference other than the Judge would appoint a Master, as soon as possible, to hear the case.

In Hathaway's party, at the East Cambridge courthouse were Leo Van Steensburg, former owner of the pit, Mr. Hathaway, and Town Engineer Lynch of North Reading.

Hathaway is reportedly basing his arguments on two different bases - 1, that the gravel pit has been in operation for many years, and thus has acquired a 'non-conforming' use over and above the Zoning Laws, and 2, that the actual operations of which Anderson is complaining might very well be in North Reading, and not in Wilmington.
State Engineers, a few weeks ago were reported in this paper as saying that they were not sure that the town bound, at Salem Street was properly located.

According to Building Inspector Anderson, Hathaway told him during the waiting period in East Cambridge Courthouse that 'If I win this I'll get drag lines and go down another 30 feet'.

Second Injunction

A second injunction was issued last Friday against the All State company of Woburn, alleging that the company was taking gravel from a pit in South Wilmington which is in fact owned by the Town of Wilmington.

The Town Engineer and the Building Inspector reported to the Board of Selectmen about six weeks ago that gravel was being taken from property owned by the town, in South Wilmington, off the site of the former Moran gravel pit.

Anderson says he visited this pit last Thursday and saw a number of gravel trucks, all bearing the ALL STATE trademark, removing gravel from this pit. He took the license numbers of the trucks, he reports.

Anderson also reports that he spoke with a person in the management of that concern, and was told that the operations were entirely within the city limits of Woburn, and that the Town of Wilmington did not own the land in question.

Rev Croke

of St. Thomas.

The Rev. Thomas Lane, a class mate of Father Croke, now of the Immaculate Conception in speaker. His talk was very

Other clergymen who were present included the Rev. Francis Sullivan of Immaculate Conception, the Rev. John Lane of St. Theresa's in North Reading
The Rev. Francis Curley of St.
Elizabeth's in Milton, and the Revs. Joseph W. Leahy and David Tyrell of St. Dorothy's in Wilmington.

Many members of the family of Father Croke were present, led by his 84 year old mother, Mrs Jeremiah Croke, of Belmont, and including sisters, Miss Anna Croke, Mr and Mrs. Edward Quirk, Mrs. Julia Sliney, all of Belmont, Mrs Hannah Learey,

Gov. Furcolo
(Cont Fr Pg)

Many Wilmington people who were not members of the Town Democratic Committee also attended. The Board of Selectmen were all present with the exception of Charles Black, recovering from his recent illness. Also present was Acting Town Manager Fred Calabrese.

Rep. Frank Tanner of Reading, Mr. Donohue's Republican co-Representative had planned to be present, but was prevented because of work in the State

Governor Furcolo told his listeners how he had succeeded in getting 265 persons to contribute $1000 apiece, the $265

lege tuition for Massachusetts boys and girls qualified and willing but who cannot afford the tuition and cost of higher education. He told of the advances made in housing for the aged, and the expansion of benefits for the unfortunates and retarded children. The Governor's speech was about one half hour in length and he touched on several subjects, each of which will provide the text for a television appeal each as the campaign progresses.

Governor Furcolo praised the Democratic House for its co-operation and its desire to assist with his humanitarian program—and he lauded Rep.
Thomas Donahue, stating as a Freshman in the Legislature, he has made tremendous progress and has exhibited a firm grasp on state affairs. He urged his listeners to return the local representative by a tremendous majority.

Rep. Donahue's address of introduction praised the leadership and concern for the people of the present governor and called for a militant campaign for his re-election.

The evening program opened with prayer by Rev. Father Leahy of St. Dorothy's Church, Wilmington, and a delicious rosat beef dinner was served.
James McLaughlin, town committee chairman made the speech of welcome and Selectman Frank Haggerty welcomed the Governor to Wilmington.

After the single speech by the Governor, dancing was enjoyed. Among those who were recognized were Henry Philip-pone, banquet chairman; Harold McKelvey, greeter; Ernest Crispo, banquet treasurer and reception committee; Red Eaton, Red Cantrell, Mary Cun-

foundation, and intended to be used to 'tie' the foundation with the concrete slab first floor were not located so that they may be used without being altered, by heating or otherwise, according to the Building Inspector. Heating the rods would cause them to lose their 'temper', and could cause them to be structurally weakened, he has stated.

In another case the wrong size and the wrong count of rods in columns, under the building, was used. Rods of 1/2 inch were used instead of five eights of an inch were used, he stated, and only half a dozen rods instead of the number eight, specified.

Wants Assurances

Anderson has not as yet made any move that would stop work on the building, but he wants, he states, assurances from the Structural Engineer that there will be no material difference in the strength of the building. The assurance, Anderson says must be in a letter signed by the Structural Engineer, or he will notify the State Department of Public Safety of the substitutions he says exists.

The letter to the Structural Engineer was given to him by means of a message to Clerk of the Works Commander Harrison, and that to the School Building Committee through the Office of the Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. McLean has already received the endorsement of the Wilmington Town Republican Committee on his harmony ideas Mrs. Wavie Drew, chairman of the Wilmington Republican Committee has been in constant communication with Mr. McLean regarding the local political situation.

Reading Opposition

At least one member of the Reading Republican Committee, according to the Reading Chronicle, is opposed to McLean's ideas, regarding a 'gentlemen's agreement' regarding representation in the legislature.

While not naming the individual the Chronicle reported that he had taken the position that McLean was 'hand-picking' the candidates.

There is one course, and one course only to follow' Hagerty stated. 'Construct the main under the existing laws and the statutes of the Commonwealth!'

Edward Thomas

The opening argument against the article was presented by Edward Thomas, of Fairmeadow Road.

People have the idea we are looking for something for nothing - that is not true - it was suggested that we go to Tewksbury, and I took it upon myself to go. I mean with the chairman of the Water Commissioners there. He doubted if the board wouldn't extend the water service - not a long term contract, but if the majority felt -

Why can't we ask for an extension of the contract to July 1 of next year? It will give the officials of this town a chance to change the law - to ease the situation. We are willing to pay half the cost, and we believe they (the officials) should try too.

Hagerty read a statement from the Town Counsel, Warren Allgrove, of Tewksbury, dated Monday, in which Mr. Allgrove pointed out that 'adequate time is rapidly coming to a close - if the Water Commissioners and the Selectmen of Tewksbury determine that the people of Wilmington are not acting in good faith then service will be terminated. In all probability it will not continue until next March.'

Bill Berry

We people on Nichols Street voted in the hearing before the Water Commissioners that we didn't want the water. We voted in the annual Town Meeting that we didn't want the water. Now we are brought back tonight - how many times are we going to have to vote?

The Board of Selectmen have overlooked the fact that anybody has the right to vote as he sees fit. I think the Board of Selectmen has shirked in its duty. This is an unsatisfactory article - a second vote article - a second rate article - an act that gives the Betterment Act more power than is good for the people.

This is only the beginning. We are going to have the same thing on sewers - sidewalks - I am asking you people to vote No.

William Agresable Smith

There is a matter of principal involved here. Through one or another of our boards there was allowed a situation to exist that shouldn't have.

Any area of this town where you have streets leading off a street where there is no water and where the people want water can bring this up again.

I have heard a lot, and I have read a lot in the paper about upholding the integrity of the Betterment Act. The people say 'sure' because they no longer have to pay - but a lot of people have helped to pay for everybody's else's water. I believe the Betterment Act acceptance was not for the benefit of the whole town.

Ed Thomas

Don't you think you should have gone to Tewksbury?

Hagerty

Mr Berry and Mr Thomas have more or less suggested that the Board of Selectmen is remiss in its duties.

Basically, the Town has adopted the Betterment Act. If you lived in a city and the city council voted to install sewerage on your street you would pay - and you wouldn't have a chance to say otherwise.

Public Hearings are for the development of information. We held one this spring, for Shady Lane Drive, a section of the street where no one lived, and every owner was an out of town resident. They all opposed it, but because we as a board of Selectmen thought it was for the best we voted for it, and you people voted for it in Town Meeting.

This isn't the only case. The residents of Birchwood Road paid for Water Betterments and they were basically in the same situation. Same developer and developed about the same time.

James McLaughlin

I want to point out that in the acceptance of Article 23, the Betterment Act, it said 'in whole or in part'. There is confusion too, I don't think this meeting is legal. The Finance Committee - did they get their seven day notice?

Eddie Curtis

I believe that something can be done by reciprocal agreement. Wilmington is now supplying water to North Reading, I read it in the North Reading paper, and by reciprocal agreement.

Wilmington has these reciprocal agreements for emergencies Cannot we supply water to Tewksbury - replace the water taken?

Nichols Street Resident

'Some underhanded deal between the Water Commissioners and the Selectmen - lets find out about it!'

Selectman De Felice

Lets throw all the punches and name the names - lets name the deals!

We asked Tewksbury if we could replace the water- they have a pressure of 100 pounds against our 80. We asked them to consider extending the contract. Its the opinion of the people of Tewksbury that where they run short in the summer and we have a good supply they couldn't possibly furnish water.

Bill Berry

I'm just asking that we get justice. At least we have the moxie to get up and fight - justice would be corrective action. Lawyers advise that its an illegal deal. The negotiations with Tewksbury have been very very limited.

Rene LaRive

Did not Mr. Berry work on the Water Extension Committee - the committee that advocated the Betterment Act?

Bill Berry

And if you remember, I did not want to put the powers into the hands of the Water Commissioners.

Legality of Meeting

McLaughlin again raised the question of the legality of the meeting, referring to the seven day notice to the Finance Committee.

Bill Curtin, Secretary of the Finance Committee asked Town Counsel Buzzell to give an opinion, and then gave it himself that where the Town Constable had published the notices it was legal.

Buzzell went further to say that the Supreme Court would probably hold that the law in this case (referring to the notice to the Finance Committee) was 'directory and not mandatory'.

James Harlow

-when Tewksbury sent that letter it was not acted upon by the Selectmen. It was not until some of us brought it to their attention that there was action. The Town Manager and others, including some of us, went to Tewksbury in February and got an extension.

There was sufficient time for Wilmington - not the residents of Nichols Street - to get that water in. I cannot see why the people of Nichols St. should have to pay so that I can get water.

Dr. C A Wood -- If those people want to pay only 50% would it be fair to ask if they want only 50% fire protection?

Larz Neilson

I was the chairman of the Water Extension Committee at the time we passed the Betterment Act in 1956. I want to draw to the attention of the town two statements that I made in the annual Town Meeting in 1956.

First, We reported that every street that had been on the list in 1951, and had complied

THE WOBURN STREET GARAGE

Donald H. Robbins, at present completing a garage building on Eames and Woburn Streets, wishes to advise that the recent write-ups in local newspapers have entirely misinformed readers as to his intentions.

Mr. Robbins' business consists of buying and selling used equipment and offering the same to customer's specifications, also, repairs to damaged equipment and towing service.

This work requires a Second Class Garage license, not a Third Class Junk license as erroneously stated in the newspapers.

Mr. Robbins was not present at the hearing regarding the issuance of the license, because of a misunderstanding of mailing instructions. He did not receive the notice of the request to appear.

Mr. Robbins hopes this notice will clarify the situation to all concerned.

If you own a home on a street that doesn't have water, you pay at the rate of 37 cents per hundred dollars for fire insurance. That means if you have $10,000 insurance on your home you are paying $37 for your insurance.

But if you live on a street that has water mains you pay at the rate of 17 cents per hundred dollars, or, for a $10 thousand home $17.

We figured that it cost $350 for one side of the street, on a hundred foot lot.

Divided into 20 years that is about $17 a year.

Subtract the $17 cost from the $37 cost for fire insurance and you have saved $20 a year.

Agreeable Smith

What if you have four lots of land?

Neilson

Then it would cost four times as much.

Mrs. Clarke

Can we get permission to go under the Boston & Maine track? The cost of going under the Boston & Maine track is part of the overall cost. You cannot make the Boston & Maine pay Betterments. We cannot say we are going under the track until we say we are going up the street, but if we vote the street the Boston & Maine part will give us no trouble.

Dick Gustafson

Could we ask the Town Counsel if this Betterment Act can be changed or repealed?

Philip Buzzell

First there is a serious doubt if it can be repealed. It is something that would have to be decided. But if it can you would of course do it in a regular town meeting.

Maynard Eaton

(part of a longer question)-Has Tewksbury the power to shut off the water?

Hagerty

Yes. Any attempts to delay or get around the issue is just procrastination.

Consider just once more the fact that what is at stake here is the integrity of the Betterment Law. For two years people have been paying under this law -- are some people fish and others fowl?

I agree fully with the people who say that there has been a mess in this town. On Fairmeadow Road we have 1/2 inch, 1 inch, 1 1/2 inch and 2 inch pipe, put in by the developer or contractors.

But this town in the past had no Subdivision regulations - no health regulations - we have gone a long way. Our people who live in the new developments are paying for their water.

Nichols Street, it is true, is one of the oldest traveled ways in town, but it is in a sense, one of the newest subdivisions in town. The greatest part of the homes there are three to five years old. In other parts of town we have subdivisions which are ten years old, and they are paying.

There was a motion to close arguments, which carried.

The final vote, called for at 10 pm, was a standing one. The vote was 104 in favor of putting water on Nichols Street, and 99 against.

Other Actions

In the first part of the meeting the Town voted for three articles, without too much debate, the entire business taking about a quarter of an hour.

On motion of Selectman Donald Kidder the town voted to adopt a By Law requiring owners of excavated areas to erect suitable barriers, or take other suitable measures, on five day notice from the Board of Selectmen.

There were only two objections. The first was to the effect that this was an arbitrary power, and was a doubt as to the phraseology. It was answered by Acting TM Calabrese, who quoted the statute from which the By Law was taken, word for word.

The second objector felt that this gave the Selectmen a power over gravel pits that they shouldn't have.

Selectman Frank Hagerty answered this by assuring the town that gravel pits come under an entirely different set of regulations.

Increased Pensions

The Town voted to adopt the provisions of Chapter 427, Acts of 1957, which increased the retirement pay of Wilmington's two retired chiefs of the Fire Department by $25 a month.

The voters manifested a considerable desire for full knowledge of what they were doing, having particular reference to the state-wide controversial question of pay for firemen and policemen who have retired in recent years and are otherwise employed.

Explanations and assurances that this was intended for only two men, one of whom was getting $65 a month and the other $101 a month, and that they could not get over $2500 a year, and further that the present force of firemen and policemen would come under a different law, explained the situation to the voters, and led one voter to suggest that the increase be made $50 instead of $25. This, he was told, was impossible under the law.

The town voted with out a dissenting voice, to adopt the law.

Truck Voted

The Water Department was voted to be allowed to purchase a truck, for $2700. The voters were told that it was to replace a 1941 truck, and that the money would come out of Water Department funds.

There were several questions about how the town could buy a truck for this money, with Maynard Eaton attempting to explore the type of purchase that was contemplated.

Superintendent of the Water Department, Eddie Sargent said it would be a Ford, Plymouth, Chevrolet, or maybe International, depending on the bids received.

KAVANAUGHS CELEBRATE

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Mr and Mrs John J Kavanagh, 14 Kelley Rd, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Saturday, May 31, at their home. An outdoor supper and decorated cake were served at tables set out on the lawn, and after supper there was dancing in the long playroom in the cellar.

Eighty-five guests, including all the relatives, except the couple's oldest son John were present. John, Army Spc/3 is at Ft Huachuca, Arizona. Mrs Mary Benson of Malden, maid of honor, was the only member of the wedding party who was able to attend.

Mr and Mrs Kavanagh were married in Malden on May 30, 1933. They have three sons, John, Robert, and Paul.

WILMINGTON LITTLE LEAGUE

Highlights of the week in Little League action included two Yankee victories, a Frank Perdicaro home run as the Indians defeated the Red Sox on Thursday, and a game-winning grand slam home run for John Natoli of the Cubs. The Yankees did their job the hard way by defeating the two teams above them in the standings - first the Indians by a 5-3 count on Tuesday, then the Tigers, 2-1, Wednesday. John Natoli's four-run blast was notable not only for what it meant to his team but also for the fact that it was hit by a boy who not long ago suffered a broken leg when struck by an auto on Main St. General opinion at the Park was that John's recuperation is complete.

Saturday was Little League Button Day, and the uniformed major leaguers canvassed most sections of the town soliciting financial support. It can be reported that the drive was completely successful and Little League is grateful to the many donors for their wonderful response.

At week's end, the top three major league teams were separated by the narrow margin of a half-game. Prospects for a close race among these teams right down to wire are excellent, although the Red Sox expect to start winning soon and turn it into a four-way race.

Minor league action found both the Redlegs and Cardinals making it two straight wins, while the Cubs got into the win column by defeating the previously unbeaten Giants, 8-5. As the schedule moves along, the caliber of play improves and the games become more exciting to watch. While attendance at the games has been greater than last year (and, according to reports, greater than that enjoyed by surrounding towns) there is always room for more fans at the games. Those who were given schedules by the boys on Saturday are urged to come down to the park and cheer the boys.
